

Further reading

Anti-social behaviour

- Burney, E. (2005) Making People Behave: Anti-Social Behaviour, Politics and Policy, Cullompton, Devon: Willan Publishing. [For a review of this useful book see: Wilson, D. (2006) Book Review: Making People Behave: Anti-Social Behaviour, Politics and Policy, Youth Justice 2006 6: 161-162.]
- Respect Task Force (2007) Tools and powers to tackle anti-social behaviour, London: Home Office.

Community Punishment

- Burnett, R. and Roberts, G. (eds) (2004) What Works in Probation and Youth Justice: Developing Evidence-Based Practice, Willan.

Custodial Punishment

- Challen, M. and Walton, T. (2004) Juveniles in Custody: A unique insight into the perception of young people held in Prison Service custody in England and Wales, London: Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Prisons.
- Goldson, B. (2006) 'Damage, Harm and Death in Child Prisons in England and Wales: Questions of Abuse and Accountability' The Howard Journal Vol 45(5) 449-467. [In the context of current United Nations concern about violence against children this article examines the treatment and death of children in prison service establishments. Goldson concludes that what occurs is 'tantamount to institutional child abuse'.]
- Douglas, N. and Plugge, E. (2007) 'The health of young women in custody: emerging concerns and a case for advocacy' Childright CR 238, 14-17.
- NACRO (2007) 'The detention and training order', Youth Crime Briefing, June, London, NACRO.

Overviews

- C.Ball (2004) '50th Anniversary Article: Youth Justice: half a century of responses to youth offending' Crim LR 167
- Goldson, B. and Muncie, J. (2006) 'Rethinking Youth Justice: Comparative Analysis, International Human Rights and Research Evidence', Youth Justice 2006 Vol 6: 91-106.
- Gray, P. (2007) 'Youth Justice, Social Exclusion and the Demise of Social Justice' The Howard Journal Vol 46(4) 401-416. [This article refers to recent research on the relative ineffectiveness of social inclusion initiatives in relation to young offenders and argues that structural barriers to reintegration and broader social ideals have been neglected. She proposes that 'a solution may lie in the propagation of a "transformative" rights-based agenda'.]
- Home Office (2006) Tackling Anti-Social Behaviour National Audit 'Value for Money' Report by the Comptroller and Auditor General, HC 99 2006-7. [Para 5b of the Executive summary states the following:

"Based on our case review sample, many individuals are responsible for relatively minor incidents of anti-social behaviour and quickly desist from such behaviour. Some 65 per cent of our sample received only one intervention. About 46 per cent of our cases were aged under 18 and 54 per cent were over 18."]
- See: <http://www.youth-justice-board.gov.uk/YouthJusticeBoard/Sentencing/> for information about 'the sentences you can get in the Youth Justice System'. [Information about the new provisions for 'dangerous' young offenders had not been added at 6.8.05.]

Parents

- Arthur, R. (2005) 'Punishing Parents for the Crimes of their Children' Howard Journal Vol 44(3) 233-253.

Public opinion

- Roberts, J. and Hough, M. (2005) 'Sentencing Young Offenders: Public Opinion in England and Wales' Criminal Justice Vol 5(3) 211-232.

Risk

- Bouhours, B. and Daly, K. (2007) 'Youth Sex Offenders in Court' Punishment and Society Vol 9(4) 371-394. [This article reviews a study of 385 sexual offence cases dealt with in South Australia 1995-2001 and analyses the ways in which judges balance the seriousness and danger of the offending with the youthfulness of the offenders.]
- DfES (2004) Offenders of the future? Assessing the risk of children and young people becoming involved in criminal or antisocial behaviour, Research report.
- McAuley, R (2006) Crime, Youth and Social Exclusion. Cullompton: Willan.
- Social Exclusion Unit (2004) Mental health and social exclusion.
- Youth Justice Board (2004) Differences or discrimination. Minority ethnic young people in the youth justice system

Rights

- CRAE (2004) State of Children's Rights in England 2004.
- Gillespie, A. (2005) 'Reprimanding Juveniles and the Right to Due Process' MLR vol 68(6) 1006-1015.